

Advisory Service Summary

What we do

We work with businesses to become ISO27001 Certification ready. We will work with you to review and implement the applicable standards and documentation to close the gap to certification.

For businesses wanting to go beyond self-certification, we also offer additional strategic project management services to coordinate registration with a certification body, precertification audit and final audit.

We help you prepare your business and systems for ISO 27001 Compliance. We will review, organise, and help setup your Information Security Management System (ISMS) within your business and will work with the wider Blackbird IT technical team OR your existing Managed Service Provider to implement any technical requirements.

A large component of certification is based on the adoption of strong, clear policies which consider organisational complexities, stakeholder expectations and any legislative/regulatory requirements.

The Blackbird Advisory team take a consultative approach to work collaboratively with businesses to develop policies to meet the ISO requirements as well as your organisational needs; and with our broad network of partners and customers, we can ensure that best practice policy development is followed.

We can provide and maintain your Statement of Applicability (SoA) and any documentation you will need to become audit ready and if needed, participate in audits you!

What sets us apart

Being apart of a Managed Service Provider places us in a position to not only offer preparation and implementation of your ISMS, but we are also able to indicate how much it may cost to keep your system maintained to ensure ongoing compliance.

Backed by an experienced technical team, we can provide complete end to end project management, so that you don't need to think about it!

What next

We work collaboratively with clients to achieve an optimal balance between time, cost, and quality of outcomes. If you like the sound of how we work, then get in touch!

Who we are

Blackbird IT exists to facilitate and empower our staff and customers to realise their potential.

We strategically implement technology in organisations across the country, delivering precise IT recommendations to suit users, industry, budget, and goals.

You're after great business results. We're out to help you achieve it. We design and implement key technology solutions and align their benefits to business outcomes such as productivity, compliance, and risk mitigation.

Expertise

We are resourced with highly experienced advisors, engineers, IT specialists, and project managers.

They have extensive experience with continuous improvement processes, regulatory compliance, and risk management in high regulated and fast passed industries.

Our greatest resources are the expertise of our people, the customer first culture in which we operate and our core values that our team embodies.
